

A few years ago I was getting ready to start my first job, as every high school student does eventually. There was only one thing left to do before I could start: I needed somewhere to keep the money I'd be earning. That's when my parents took me to set up a saving and checking account at the North East Welch Federal Credit Union. My parents recommended the NEWFCU to me, and I'd recommend a credit union to any of my friends that asked me.

When I walk inside the NEWFCU, whether it's to withdraw, transfer, or deposit my money, I see familiar faces and people who frequently recognize me too. I am able to go to my credit union with the confidence that I can trust the people helping me manage my account and requests, and I think that's very important. In the small town of North East, Pennsylvania, community is one of (if not the most) important thing amongst the people who live here. Knowing that this philosophy carries through to my credit union speaks volumes not only to me but to my family members as well.

I also enjoy being able to utilize the NEWFCU App via my cell phone to check my bank balance at any moment. I value the convenience of it and the security measures taken on the app as well. It's truly reassuring to know that I can look at the standing of my bank account with the click of a button, especially since I know it will be up-to-date thanks to the dedicated and trustworthy workers at the NEWFCU. I'm able to rest assured that my information will be protected, yet readily available when I need it.

With the end of my high school career quickly approaching, I realize that I'll soon be using more of the many services offered at the North East Welch Federal Credit Union. Although up to this point I've only used a few of them, they've truly benefitted me and have made starting my financial journey easy to adjust to. I'm grateful for the opportunity to be a member of the North East Welch FCU and the assurance of kindness and help that come with it, and I would recommend joining a credit union to anybody who asks or may be considering it.
